DAVID WALLIAMS, JENNIFER SAUNDERS AND TOM COURTENAY STAR IN A NEW FAMILY DRAMA

Based on yet another David Walliams novel, Grandpa's Great Escape tells the tale of Grandpa, a Second World War flying ace, who now suffers from Alzheimer's disease. When his family can no longer look after him he is moved to an old people's home called Twilight Towers, run by Miss Dandy. But it soon becomes clear that Miss Dandy is running the place for her own ulterior motives, and it is up to Grandpa and his grandson Jack to make a daring escape. Failure could have the most dire consequences, but success will give Grandpa a final chance to relive his past – and once again take to the sky in his beloved Spitfire. Tom Courtenay, Jennifer Saunders and David Walliams all star.

HOUSE OF FUN

CELEBRITY BIG BROTHER IS BACK – AND ONLY GIRLS ARE ALLOWED!

Who runs the world? Girls! Well, at least they're running the Celebrity Big Brother house. With a new year just on the horizon, it can only mean one thing, and that's the return of one of our favourite reality shows.

This year, the CBB house is facing a twist – only famous females are going in. As the country marks 100 years since women won the right to vote, this series launches with an all-female cast before gradually, the men are introduced.

Presented by Emma Willis, Rylan Clark-Neal is also back on Celebrity Big Brother's Bit On The Side after the main show. Here, the duo tell Big TV what to expect this year...

THE CELEBRITY BIG BROTHER EYE HAS CHANGED – WHAT'S THE IDEA BEHIND THIS SERIES THEME?

EMMA: "The idea behind this series' theme is to celebrate women, as it's 100 years since women won the right to vote. It's hugely important that it's being celebrated. It's about learning the differences we all have and, more importantly, the similarities."

HOW DO YOU THINK THE FEMALE HOUSEMATES WILL REACT TO MALE HOUSEMATES ENTERING THE HOUSE AFTER THEM?

"Being a women myself, I'm sure they will cope really well. Why wouldn't they? Hopefully they will all take on board and celebrate what we are doing in January. Open and interesting conversations and an amazing experience over the month, exploring all things to do with feminism from a female and male point of view."

RYLAN, WHEN YOU WERE IN THE CBB HOUSE, HOW DID YOU DEAL WITH THE POWER STRUGGLES BETWEEN HOUSEMATES?

"We were quite lucky as there was no competition for power in my house. Speidi did try, but we all know who won in the end. Me. Ha!"

HOW DO YOU THINK THE HOUSEMATES WILL DEAL WITH POWER STRUGGLES?

E: "You can never guess! The people that you think will deal with power reasonably well are sometimes the ones that really struggle and that's the interesting thing about Big Brother, as the show casts different lights on different people under different situations."

R: "I think it will either be a welcome addition for them or the women will be very protective. I think we're in for a few fireworks."

HAS THE CBB HOUSE CHANGED AT ALL?

E: "It's been redecorated this year to give a really clean and neutral, stylish look. I think everybody will love it."

CELEBRITY BIG BROTHER'S BIT ON THE SIDE WILL RETURN ON WEEKNIGHTS. WHAT DO YOU THINK YOU WILL ENJOY MOST ABOUT PRESENTING THE SHOW?

R: "Honestly it's the people I work with. We're such a family and you need to love Big Brother to work on Bit On The Side. We have the most fun making the show and I have even more presenting it."

ARE YOU LOOKING FORWARD TO THE RETURN OF CELEBRITY BIG BROTHER?

R: "This time of year I'm always excited for two things: Christmas and CBB coming back! I do enjoy a theme to a series, so I'm excited to see how it plays out. But as a die-hard fan, I do love the core elements of Big Brother, so I'm looking forward to the mix."

HONEY, WE'RE BACK!

WILL, GRACE, KAREN AND JACK RETURN – AND THEY'RE BETTER THAN EVER!

We can't believe it's been over 10 years since we last caught up with this fabulous foursome! Will & Grace was one of TV's biggest hits back in the late 90s and when the last episode aired in 2006, we all let out a big sob.

But finally the Emmy Award-winning gang are returning and it looks like Will (Eric McCormack), Grace (Debra Messing), Jack (Sean Hayes) and Karen (Megan Mullally) are just as naughty, outrageous and hilarious as they always were.

But before we can get stuck into this new series, let's rewind back to the final of series eight to refresh our memories. Fans will remember that Grace was married to Leo and the couple had a baby girl together. Will was also loved up with Vince and they had a baby boy. Then at the end of the final episode, Will and Grace had fallen out and not spoken for years until their children met and fell in love in college.

So now back to present day and the answer to the question – did they really fall out?

Well, firstly it seems that the final episode of series eight was all Karen's bad dream – phew! Will and Grace have both divorced their partners, they don't have kids and they're back living together – hooray! In the first episode, the gang are hanging out in Will's apartment playing an app version of charades, and it feels like they never left us!

So how did the reunion come about? "I never in a million years thought it was going to come back," Debra, 49, explains.

"We all got together after 10 years to do this little video, which was to get people to go out and vote. All of a sudden there's 7.5 million views and NBC were like, 'Wait a second, that might be something we should look into.'"

But like with any big TV comeback, one thing all fans worry about is the changes. Thankfully, the cast have reassured us that it's all very similar.

"We have the same camera guys, the same hair and make-up, the same set designer, the same costume designer – it's crazy!" Megan, 59, says.

"And that set, when you're on that set, it's like being back in the bedroom at your parents' house," Eric, 54, adds.

And what do they hope to get out of the new series? "We want to make people laugh," explains Debra. "I really needed to laugh out loud again – it's been a long time. Every day we get to go to work and laugh out loud. It's such a gift, especially if we make other people laugh out loud too."

■ Will & Grace, Friday, 10pm, Channel 5

WHO'S WHO?

Will

Will's a lawyer who lives in the Upper West Side of New York with his roommate Grace. He was married to Vince but they've since divorced and when we catch up with him, he's flirting with a sexy congressman.

Grace

The interior designer has divorced Leo and moved back in with Will "temporarily". She's also taken on a massive job redesigning the Oval Office – despite her political objections – thanks to Karen's contacts.

Karen

Karen loves a dirty martini and not doing much work. A socialite who made all her money through marriage to her husband Stan, she's also the assistant to Grace and a friend of... wait for it... Melania Trump.

Jack

Will's best friend Jack is out and very proud. When we meet up with him, he's still single, in search of acting work and living across the hall from Will. He's also funny as always, just a little bit older and a pro at dating apps!

NORTON YOUR LIFE!

JAMES NORTON HEADS THE CAST OF THE GRIPPING NEW THRILLER MCMAFIA

We are used to seeing him as part of an ensemble cast or the joint lead, but in this new drama, James Norton finally becomes the leading man.

Following War & Peace, Grantchester, Happy Valley and Death Comes To Pemberley, he's the star of thriller McMafia, the story of a man trying to escape his mafia family connections.

He plays Alex Godman, the English-raised son of Russian exiles trying to escape his family's mafia ties by going into legitimate business.

The lavish British-US co-production sees James play Alex Godman, the son of an ex-Russian mobster exiled to England over a decade ago, where his children were brought up. Alex's chief aim now is to distance himself from the gangster money that funded his privileged upbringing, and be as British as possible.

"Alex is a gift for an actor," says James. "He has set his mission to turn his back on the criminal past which the family all share. He runs this ethical hedge fund and he's built the business up from scratch."

Alex lives with his British girlfriend, Rebecca and tries to ignore encouragement from his crooked uncle, Boris to join him in shady business dealings.

He also remains devoted to his parents, Dimitri and Oksana, played by famous Russian actors Aleksey Serebryakov and Mariya Shukshina, and to his sister, Katya, played by Game Of Thrones' Faye Marsay.

"Alex identifies with his Russian roots, but he's also aware that they're all tied up with this mafia past," says James. "So he speaks with an English accent and his girlfriend is very, very English, and yet he spends his evenings going to Russian martial arts classes and reading Dostoyevsky – it's this kind of contradiction in his own head which he hasn't worked out quite yet. In the story, he goes through a series of events and is blackmailed and strong-armed into engaging with his chequered past, and that sets up the conflict of the series."

The series was filmed in London, Tel Aviv, Istanbul, Moscow and the south of France – even if much of it was set in Croatia – to give the thriller international glamour and a global feel.

Meanwhile, the matter of whether or not to embrace the family's Russian roots poses less of a problem for Alex's little sister, Katya.

"Katya's journey is about figuring out where she fits in within this mad family, and how she wants to identify herself," explains Faye.

"She is completely different to any character I've done, actually – very well-spoken, very strong and feminine. I usually play nutfaces or punks or whatever, so it's been a challenge."

HERE COME THE GIRLS!

KAY MELLOR RETURNS TO ITV WITH A STELLAR CAST FOR GIRLFRIENDS

The writer of Band Of Gold and Fat Friends is no stranger to stories about strong women, and Kay Mellor's Girlfriends is no exception. Originally called Women Of A Certain Age, the six-part comedy drama reunites old friends Linda (Phyllis Logan), Gail (Zoe Wanamaker) and Sue (Miranda Richardson) when tragedy strikes. Linda's husband vanishes mysteriously from a cruise ship on their wedding anniversary. Alone after 30 years, Gail and Sue return to support their grieving friend. But her girlfriends have problems of their own. "I'd never heard of them before!" Phyllis laughs, when asked about working with her co-stars. "No, obviously their reputations go before them so it was a wee bit scary for me, the idea of hooking up with them and trying to be as good as them! Hopefully that worked. It was a thrill to get to work with them. I enjoyed being a bit of a hippy-type. It took me back to the real thing, and I did look a bit like that back in the day. It was nice, actually, to revisit. There were occasionally times when I would look at Miranda with her beautiful wardrobe on, and her hair and think 'for God's sake!'" Zoe, who plays a time-pressed lollipop lady juggling taking care of her mother, son and grandchild, chuckles at the mention of Miranda's glamorous magazine editor role. "The only time I felt jealous was when I asked wardrobe if, instead of the £2.99 tights they put me in, could I have a pair of Wolfords? They said no, they couldn't afford it. They spent all the budget on Miranda!" Meanwhile, when high-flying Sue gets a call from her PA she's not prepared for the devastating news facing her at work. As the future of her career as the high-powered features editor of the bridal magazine is thrown into question, Sue's horrified when she realises it might have more to do with her age than her performance at work. "She's all about keeping up appearances," says Miranda. "I like her sense of drama as well. There is a comedic element to that. I think it's smart to write for this generation, or this age, generally, but women of middle years and upwards have an accumulation of experience and stuff going on, connections, responsibilities, things they want to do in life. "We are a changing demographic, and it makes absolute sense that everybody's story needs to be out there. Women, as they say, of a certain age. There has been some of that recently, in Hollywood, but you tend to think it's a passing phase and it will just go into nothing. But I don't think it can afford to because we're all around." And there are plenty of surprises to come in the series. "They do redirect their energies away from all of this other stuff," Miranda adds. "It's a sort of mini adventure, to go and find the person who is causing such hell in Linda's life. It has to be said that these women pack more in a day than any of us do in a month! We all think about doing this stuff but we don't necessarily get on with it." "It's about ordinary, so-called, women," adds Zoe. "But nobody is ordinary. That's what's exciting, that someone has actually examined it and opened those doors, where usually we don't see that."

LA ISLA BONITA

THE MOST DANGEROUS ISLAND ON EARTH RETURNS FOR A BRAND NEW SERIES

Filmed on the French-Caribbean island of Guadeloupe, Death In Paradise returns this week for a seventh series. And this time last year, the arrival of Ardal O'Hanlon as Detective Inspector Jack Mooney helped it to pull in a record audience of more than nine million viewers. It's normally an enormous challenge for any actor to take over the lead role of an established drama, especially one vacated by the ever popular Kris Marshall who himself replaced Ben Miller. But Ardal certainly rose to the challenge.

"It's like having a baby – nobody can prepare you for it," he explains. "Kris was very helpful with practical advice, like where to go and what to see, but it's not until you get your boots on the ground that you realise what's in front of you."

"We're just trying to make Jack as different as possible. The most obvious thing is that he's not British. Ben's character was very uptight and Kris's was reserved, but this character is more friendly and outgoing and sociable and bumbling in his own way. But Jack uses humour to disarm people and is constantly underestimated as a result."

Set on the idyllic tropical island of Saint Marie, the series sees the return of regulars Joséphine Jobert, Danny John-Jules, Tobi Bakare, Elizabeth Bourguine and Don Warrington for more baffling murder cases under the sun.

This week's first episode stars New Tricks' Denis Lawson as a hotel magnate whose bride is found dead the day before her lavish wedding, and there are suspects aplenty.

While Jack is adapting to island life, he's also playing poker masterminds at their own game and uncovering secrets and lies within a famous reggae band.

Meanwhile, DS Florence Cassell tackles runaway suspects. Elsewhere, romance could be in the air for Officer Dwayne Myers but will he finally meet his match? And a secret from Officer JP Hooper's past returns to haunt him.

Ardal admits that while the sun-soaked landscape is intended to bring a bit of sunshine to winter, filming on Guadeloupe can be challenging. It's often sweltering, with high humidity levels.

"It is very tough from that point of view, but as long as you focus on the important stuff like working out how to do a scene, all that other stuff is extraneous," he says. "And after a while, instead of complaining about the heat, go sit in front of a fan."

This series guest stars include Mark Benton, James Faulkner, Suzanne Packer and even Reggae Reggae sauce creator Levi Roots! "Death In Paradise is a departure for me," Ardal adds. "That's why I leapt at the opportunity. It's really exciting."

SPECTRE

Coming off the back of the most successful James Bond film of all time was never going to be easy. And while Spectre doesn't quite manage to live up to the brilliance of Skyfall, it comes a pretty close second. Daniel Craig reprises his role as the man with a licence to kill. And after receiving a message of the cryptic kind, he goes off on his merry way around the world to infiltrate a secret criminal network. Back at home, his colleagues face threats of their own while Bond discovers that the man in charge of the syndicate might have something to do with his past. Christoph Waltz and Ralph Fiennes also star.

AVENGERS: AGE OF ULTRON

There are more superheroes than you can shake a stick at in this sequel. The team faces a threat from within when Iron Man creates an artificial intelligence to take their place protecting the world. But when the android grows resentful of his creators, he decides to wipe out the human race. Oops! Meanwhile, a pair of vengeful superpowered twins try to turn the Avengers against each other.

■ Tonight, 8pm, BBC1

THE HUNDRED-FOOT JOURNEY

Helen Mirren stars in this low-budget comedic tale of an Indian family that emigrates to a village in the south of France to open a restaurant. A bitter feud erupts with the owner of an eatery just across the road, while romance blossoms between the son of the newcomers and their rival's sous chef. There are plenty of laughs to be had.

■ New Year's Day, 4.20pm, Channel 5

THE LEGO MOVIE

An ordinary man leading a life of blissful ignorance in a city made of the construction toy is mistakenly identified as a chosen one destined to save the universe. He joins a mismatched band of heroes in trying to stop a plan to fix the world permanently in place. Chris Pratt, Elizabeth Banks, Morgan Freeman and Will Ferrell lend their voices to this brilliant comedy.

■ New Year's Eve, 5pm, Channel 5

MALEFICENT

Angelina Jolie is brilliantly evil in this story of a fairy who falls in love with an ambitious human nobleman. However, he betrays her in his bid to get his hands on the throne. She swears to get revenge on him by placing a curse on his daughter, only to find herself quite liking the girl. Elle Fanning and Imelda Staunton also star.

NEW YEAR'S EVE

Michelle Pfeiffer, Robert De Niro, Halle Berry, Sarah Jessica Parker and Zac Efron star in this comedy drama about various New Yorkers who wrestle with personal and romantic challenges in their lives on the last night of the year. They include a record company executive who is determined to make a fresh start and a dying man who wants to join the traditional Times Square festivities one last time.

■ New Year's Eve, 6.40pm, ITV2

INTO THE WOODS

See how many fairy tales you can spot in this story. A wicked witch agrees to lift a curse on a young couple if they will help restore her once-beautiful looks. This musical fantasy is based on Stephen Sondheim's hit stage show, which borrows from the stories of Cinderella, Little Red Riding Hood, Jack And The Beanstalk and Rapunzel. Meryl Streep, James Corden and Emily Blunt star.

■ New Year's Eve, 8pm, BBC2

PITCH PERFECT 2

In the sequel to the hilarious Pitch Perfect, our favourite a cappella group the Barden Bellas are having an amazing run. Then disaster strikes and they find themselves performing poorly and banned from national competitions because of the scandal. But they make an attempt to turn their fortunes around and redeem their reputation by competing in the world championships in Denmark.

CORONATION STREET'S CONNOR MCINTYRE ON WHAT LIES AHEAD FOR PHELAN, AND MORE IMPORTANTLY WHAT STILL LIES BENEATH...

WHAT'S PHELAN'S REACTION WHEN SEB ACCEPTS A JOB WORKING WITH GARY?

Pat sees this as a real act of disloyalty and as we know he doesn't take that at all well. He never forgets and more importantly, he never forgives.

THE MILL CONVERSION THAT GARY IS WORKING ON IS WHERE ANDY AND VINNY'S BODIES ARE BURIED – WHAT DOES PHELAN THINK?

Well, you can imagine! First of all, Gary is on his territory. Secondly, if there's going to be a development there, there's a good chance that the bodies are going to be discovered so it's all hands to the pump. Phelan really has to think of a way to manage this scenario.

IS THIS UNNERVING PHELAN OR IS HE THAT NARCISSISTIC THAT HE'S CONFIDENT HE CAN SOLVE IT?

He's nervous, he goes into that problem-solving place in his head. It's a very dangerous time for him, which means it's a very dangerous time for everyone else.

PHELAN NOW HAS TO DEAL WITH LUKE ASKING QUESTIONS. HOW WORRIED IS HE WHEN LUKE TURNS UP AT THE MILL?

At first he thinks he can manage it because Luke is a nice guy, but irritating because he wants to know the truth. He's kept pressing and Phelan has sent him on a wild goose chase. But when Luke finally turns up at the mill, it becomes clear that this is not going the way he wants. Luke is determined and knows something's not right. There lies the big problem for Phelan.

HOW ARE THESE SCENES AT THE MILL DIFFERENT TO THE SCENES INVOLVING ANDY AND VINNY?

What gives these scenes an extra charge is that they're in broad daylight. This is really indicative of the seriousness because Pat would like to go around quietly in the dark. All of a sudden he's being forced into a situation in broad daylight and it only takes somebody to see what's going on and the cat is out of the bag on all levels...

AIDAN'S JOB FAILS AS THE USUAL SUSPECTS GET CAUGHT IN WEB

Tensions rise in Albert Square as the day of Aidan's job arrives. His men are told to go about their usual business, but to await his signal.

Meanwhile, the women of Walford are affected in their own way by Aidan's plans. Shirley, realising that Mick has got involved with Aidan's schemes, hatches a shocking plan of her own to stop him getting caught up in it. Sharon's all too aware that Phil's up to no good, but doesn't dare push for answers when he fobs her off. Bernadette can tell that Keanu is anxious and pushes for more information on the job he has lined up.

With the go-ahead given, Aidan is furious to discover that Mick has gone missing. Gun in hand he storms to The Vic to confront Shirley...

With the job underway, Shirley and Linda rush to find Mickey – they find the men just as the job starts to fall to pieces. The fallout starts to take its toll on all around them, with pressure beyond bearable for all involved.

DEBBIE ONLY HAS EYES FOR TOM BUT IS HE UP TO NO GOOD?

Debbie's first day working for Tom takes a surprising turn when he offers to appoint a lawyer for Sam and Lydia. Later on, with Debbie finding herself at a loose end, she's asked to witness the signing of a big deal – but just what has she unwittingly found herself signing...?

The golf course developers have trouble on their hands when Sam and Zak hatch a plan to stop them. But in order to prove that the Dingle house sits on a badger sett, they'll have to head into the woods in search of badger droppings. Sam explains the scheme to Tom, and no sooner have Sam and Lydia set off in search of their prize than they're arrested by police. Could Tom's mysterious phone call have anything to do with their predicament?

Debbie's loved up with Tom, but his evasiveness about his new job leads her to have further suspicions.

Elsewhere, Leyla's excited about her plans to move to Greece, but Jacob has other ideas despite her best attempts to show him that her move would have its benefits too.

Guess the Star

7pm, ITV

Five well-known stars are transformed into their favourite musical icon for a performance on this new family show. Hosted by Jonathan Ross, the programme pits three teams against each other as they try to work out who the disguised famous faces are in the shortest time possible. The teams include Antony Cotton, Catherine Tyldesley and Sally Dynevor from Coronation Street, Eamonn Holmes, Stacey Solomon and Judge Rinder from Team Daytime and Team Diversity's Jordan Banjo, Perri Kiely and Sam Craske. However, their task is made all the more difficult because each star undergoes a massive makeover before miming a classic hit from their hero. The first performance of the night is Uptown Funk by a someone disguised as Bruno Mars. He seems to have the moves and is a dead ringer for this pop icon, but will the teams be able to guess who he is? Up next is an amazing performance of Chandelier by singer Sia's double act. With her face completely hidden under Sia's iconic black and white wig, will the teams be able to suss out who it is? And look out for someone doing the late Lemmy from Motorhead. ★★★★★

Jools' Annual Hootenanny / Nile Rodgers & CHIC: Good Times 2017

11.20pm, BBC2 / 11.20pm, BBC1

Be honest, can you really be bothered to go out on New Year's Eve? We know we can't. What with the overpriced drinks, inflated entrance fees and not being able to get a taxi home, it's much more fun staying in. If you're going to be like the majority of people who are spending the evening in front of the telly, then there are two perfect programmes for you to see in the new year. Over on BBC2, we have Jools Holland and his Rhythm and Blues Orchestra who are belting out their 25th Annual Hootenanny in a row. And as always, there will be dozens of musical acts from across the ages to knock out a tune or two. Meanwhile on BBC1, the brilliant Nile Rodgers & CHIC will be performing live from London. Accompanied by his funk band, they will be belting out tunes as the show celebrates the influential band's 40th anniversary. It pauses at close to midnight for the annual New Year fireworks display, which has been choreographed to fit a specially edited medley of music, and the show continues as 2018 begins with a traditional rendition of Auld Lang Syne and more classic CHIC hits. Roman Kemp presents. ★★★★★

NEW YEAR'S DAY

NEW SERIES

McMafia

9pm, BBC1

Two years ago, The Night Managers surprised us all by appearing from nowhere and proving must-see TV. Can McMafia do the same? Hunky James Norton is the leading man, playing Alex Godman who is drawn deeper and deeper into the world of organised crime. When Russian crime boss Vadim meets his Indian associate Benny to discuss their control of Mumbai's main port, Vadim is blown up by a car bomb. It's not long before his allies have the name of the man believed to be behind it. Step forward Alex, a successful young hedge fund manager. His dad is a depressed Russian exile, his mother is a socialite and he has a wayward sister and a British girlfriend. However, when his hedge fund comes under fire, investors start to withdraw money in droves. Alex tries to find new clients, but struggles against the prejudices that stem from his Russian background. When Alex approaches his uncle Boris for help, he mentions a wealthy shipping magnate friend and Alex agrees to a meeting. But it soon becomes clear that the man's money and his intentions are not as legitimate as they first seemed. ★★★★★

The Greatest TV Moments of All Time

8pm, ITV

Incredible moments from the last 50-plus years of TV history will be facing off against each other in a glitzy awards ceremony for this one-off show. Hosted by comedian and TV presenter Paddy McGuinness, the two-hour programme will be a celebratory romp through the most amazing moments on TV spanning the past six decades. Starting in the 1960s and continuing right through to the present day, the nation's favourite clips from each era will compete to be crowned as the greatest TV moment of all time. The show is jam-packed with the best, most nostalgia-inducing television memories, with a poll of viewers deciding which iconic clip has been voted the winner from each decade. Paddy will be joined by celebrity guests such as Holly Willoughby, Keith Lemon, Sir Tony Robinson, John Cleese, Meera Syal, Jimmy Tarbuck and William Roache who will each represent a different decade and put their case forward as to why their era laid claim to the best TV moment. Those special moments then go head to head at the end of the show to compete for the title of The Greatest TV Moment of All Time. ★★★★★

The Real T. Rex with Chris Packham

9pm, BBC2

Tyrannosaurus rex fanatic Chris embarks on a journey to discover the truth behind the animal that has endured centuries of scientific inaccuracy and Hollywood exaggerations. After studies of dinosaur skin and teeth, we'll learn if T. Rex was a lizard or a bird and if he was a pea-brained scavenger or a sophisticated hunter. ★★★★★

Girlfriends

9pm, ITV

Kay Mellor, the writer behind Love, Lies And Records, In The Club and Fat Friends, is at the helm of this brand new series. For life-long friends Linda, Sue and Gail, the years have flown by, yet their lives seem more complicated than ever. When Linda's husband Micky vanishes on their wedding anniversary Linda suddenly finds herself on her own for the first time in nearly 30 years. Widowed and out of her depth she turns to her old friends Gail and Sue for support, who each have their own problems to face. Meanwhile, when she discovers the depressing reality of the family's badly managed finances, she fears for the future. She already has a lot on her plate, having to juggle caring for her ageing mum and looking after her demanding grandson as she prepares for her son Tom's release from prison. With her divorce to her second husband Dave nearing completion, an unwanted letter causes Gail to face her true feelings. But is it too late for her to do anything about it? Elsewhere, high-flying Sue gets a call from her PA and she's not prepared for the bad news facing her at work. Miranda Richardson, Zoe Wanamaker and Phyllis Logan star. ★★★★★

Death in Paradise

9pm, BBC1

It's miserable outside, Christmas is over and the dark nights are still with us. So thank goodness for the escapism that the most murderous island in the world has on offer – sun, sea, sand and death. Back for a seventh series, this first episode finds DI Jack Mooney (played by Ardal O'Hanlon) and the team left puzzled when Diane Smith, fiancée of hotel billionaire Philip Marston, is found dead the day before her lavish wedding. All evidence points towards suicide, but Jack is convinced there's more to this case than meets the eye and turns his attentions to her family-to-be. With the victim's room locked from the inside and all suspects in different locations around the hotel, how could any of them have committed murder? Puzzled by a single painted nail on the victim's hand, Jack is determined to prove foul play, despite the Commissioner insisting on closing the case. With a distinct lack of physical evidence, the team have a tough task on their hands. Meanwhile, Jack discovers a local delicacy, while his daughter Siobhan faces a tough decision. Elsewhere, Dwayne finds himself in hot water with former flame Audrey. ★★★★★

ONES TO WATCH...

FRIDAY

NEW SERIES

Will & Grace

10pm, Channel 5

All sitcoms have an expiry date and 11 years ago it was the turn of Will & Grace to bite the bullet. In the meantime, many sitcoms have come and gone and currently the world's most watched one is The Big Bang Theory. However, there has yet to be another US comedy that has quite matched the acerbic wit and trailblazing storylines as Will & Grace managed. So, when it was announced that the duo would be returning for a new ten-part series, fans were overjoyed. Now, months after it was broadcast in America, we get it. All the cast have returned for this new run — with the exception of Rosario Salazar who has retired from acting. And this first episode, while not the strongest of the new series (next week's is so much better) gets us up to date with what has happened to Will, Grace, Jack and Karen. If you remember the last time it was on our screens, Will and Grace hadn't spoken for years and were married with children. Well, you're going to have to forget any of that ever happened because the new series certainly does! This opener is quite politics heavy, but stick with it and you'll be glad you did. ★★★★★

The Big Soap Quiz: Coronation Street v Emmerdale

9pm, ITV

Stephen Mulhern returns to our screens to host this epic battle between ITV's two biggest soaps. Cast members go head-to-head to see who knows the most about the show they work on. Mark Charnock will captain Emmerdale while Jack P. Shepherd leads the assault for Coronation Street. ★★★★★

JUST LISTEN!

It's a hand-crafted, faithful replica of an actual wooden-cabinet jukebox from the golden days of rock 'n' roll

Colour-changing lights bring a party mood in authentic-looking neon-style tube design

Get all shook up to the actual recordings of The King of Rock and Roll™ singing 'Hound
Dog' and 'Heartbreak Hotel', along with favourite imagery of Elvis

Great details—title strips, buttons, raised-relief stack of records, and record player arm

Accompanied by a Certificate of Authenticity

Shown smaller than actual size of approx. 10 inches (25.4 cm) in height x 6 inches (15.24 cm) in width. Requires 3 x 'AAA' batteries (not included).

It never grows old. That feeling, that eternal giddiness when you catch a glimpse of Elvis Presley on a magazine or album cover. Or, if you happen to hear his voice, time stands still. That sexy, resonant voice – you can just remember those times, see that lock of hair falling in front of his eyes again.

That's why The Bradford Exchange is thrilled to present the Elvis™ Rocks Forever! Musical Jukebox, where actual recordings of Elvis himself singing: 'Hound Dog' and 'Heartbreak Hotel' are yours at the touch of a button!

Elvis sings two all-time hits to you in a colour-charged, rockin' replica tabletop jukebox

Almost as cool as The King of Rock and Roll™ himself is the impressive, 10-inch tall sculpted jukebox that brings him to your desk or tabletop. Meticulously handcrafted, it has a handsome wooden finish just like those magical machines that made the whole room rock. Push the button and you're there – thrilling to 'Hound Dog' and 'Heartbreak Hotel' – actual recordings in Elvis's own voice. And there's more...

Flip the switch for a light show worthy of the music! Party colours glow and change in authentic-looking neon-style tubes that curve around images of Elvis in his 'Jailhouse Rock' costume and his gold lamé suit. His replica signature is loud and clear, and up top is another official image of The King of Rock and Roll™. Raised-relief sculpted records and player arm with intricate silvery trim complete the jukebox look and feel.

Accompanied by a Certificate of Authenticity and a 365-day guarantee, the officially licensed Elvis™ 'Rocks Forever' Musical Jukebox is available for just 4 instalments of £24.99 – that's only £99.96 (plus £9.99 s&h)*.
